

Mixed-up muraqqa

This muraqqa has become muddled! Can you cut out the pieces and work out how to arrange them back together inside the border?

Have you put the page back together? This page is a poem written in Persian all about a happy time spent with friends. One of the lines of the poem says: 'The gathering is happy and we, the companions are all happy'. Look closely at the figures in the picture – do you think that they look happy?
