

Being Leonardo

What are you good at? Look at the descriptions in the table opposite, either tick or use traffic light colours to highlight which you think describe you best.

GREEN

Yes, this is very much like me.

ORANGE

This is a bit like me.

RED

I don't think this is like me.

When you have completed your table, talk to a friend or teacher about your thoughts, what do they think?

If you were Leonardo's student, what area would you like 'training' in and why?

Can you think how you could get this training? From who or where would you look for support?

Leonardo the...

innovator and thinker	I enjoy ideas and inventing things. I like to think about answers to 'big' questions about the world and the human race. I wonder a lot and ask questions starting with 'what if...?'
observer	I am always looking for proof or evidence. I record the detail of new information. I see things that others might not.
learner	I am a pupil who tries hard and listens carefully to teachers, both at school and outside of school. I like to help or teach other people.
creator	I enjoy writing or sketching/scribbling/drawing ideas on paper or computers. I also make things, sometimes out of building blocks or anything I can find.
passionate worker	I love learning! I am a busy bee and care about my work. I enjoy being outdoors and learning from nature.
pioneer	I like to explore and experience things myself rather than being told. I sometimes like to lead.

REMEMBER Like Leonardo, who worked for decades, you can build your knowledge (stuff you know) and your skills (things you can do).
